MEDIA COVERAGE AND SOCIETAL IMPACT

My research has been profiled in numerous print, web, and radio outlets, including: front page coverage in three Danish national newspapers - Politiken, Berlingske, and Information; in articles published in Jyllands-Posten, Kristeligt Dagblad, Ekstra Bladet, BT, Weekendavisen, and a range of other local newspapers; in prime-time broadcasts on DR P1 morgen, P4 Østjylland, and Radio Loud; via blog posts; in feature pieces in professional publications such as the Danish police union's magazine DANSK POLITI and Altinget; in popular media such as femina magazine; and in a published commentary from the Danish Minister of Justice.

Practice contributions include the development, implementation, and quality-control of bystander training for high-schools, trauma-education in the police, community youth mentoring, and new practices in the victim-offender mediation program.
