

Curriculum Vitae

Rasmus Møller Hvid

Date of birth: 07.01.1998

Phone: +45 60482283

E-mail: rmh@ps.au.dk

Work address: Bartholins Allé 7, 8000 Aarhus C. Office 1340-262.

Languages: Danish (mother tongue), English (fluent), German (intermediate, academic reading competences), Spanish (intermediate), French (beginner).

Areas of Expertise

Populism, undemocratic movements, and democratic theory. Critical theory (Habermas, Honneth, Adorno). Post-foundationalism (Laclau, Mouffe, Arendt). Rational reconstruction as methodology. Legal and political sociology. Constitutional theory (and its intellectual history).

Education

- 2024- PhD, Political Science, Aarhus University. Project title: The Imperative Mandate and the Future of Democracy.
- 2021-2023 MSc, Political Science, Aarhus University. GPA: 11,8. MSc thesis: Identities on the Verge: Salvaging the Democratic Potentials of Identity Politics.
- 2022-2023 Erasmus Semester, Political Science, Lund University.
- 2018-2021 BSc, Political Science, Aarhus University. GPA: 10,3. BSc thesis: Towards a Deliberative Theory of Recognition: a discussion of rights and recognition in deliberative democratic theory.

Academic Employment

- 2024- PhD fellow. Department of Political Science, Aarhus University.
- 2023 Teaching Assistant, Political Theory. Department of Political Science, Aarhus University.
- 2022-2023 Student Assistant. Populism and Democratic Defence in Europe. Department of Political Science, Aarhus University.
- 2021-2022 Teaching Assistant, Sociology of Health and Illness. Department of Political Science and Department of Public Health, Aarhus University.
- 2020-2021 Student Assistant. Crown Prince Frederik Center for Public Leadership. Department of Political Science, Aarhus University.

Publications

Hvad skal vi stille op med identitetspolitikken? (English title: What are we to do with identity politics?). Kandestøberen, October 2023.