

Curriculum Vitae: Søren Flinch Midtgaard

1. Education

MA, Department of Politics and International Studies, University of Warwick. Pathway in Political Theory. Concluded with “distinction” December 2, 1996.

Cand.scient.pol., Aarhus University (Average grade: 10.7). February 9, 1997.

PhD, Department of Political Science and Government. Aarhus University. Thesis: Equality and Stability. May 17, 2002.

2. Current and most recent positions held

2005 –: Associate Professor in Political Science/Political Theory, Department of Political Science and Government, Aarhus University

2002-2005: Assistant Professor in Political Science/Political Theory, Department of Political Science and Government, Aarhus University

2000-2002: External lecture in Political Science/Political Theory

3. Periods of leave (paternity leave)

01.02.2005-06.06.2005.

01.08.2007-30.09.2007.

4. Academic awards and honours

1995-1996: British Chevening Scholarship til MA studier på

University of Warwick 1999-2000: British Chevening Scholarship for research at St Antony’s College, Oxford

5. Management experience

- 2010-2012: VIP-member of the board of study, Department of Political Science and Government, Aarhus University 2017-2022: VIP-member of the board of study, Department of Public Health (Dept. of Pol. Science representative)
- 2008-: member of the PhD assessment committee, Department of Political Science and Government, Aarhus University
- 2003-2013: Head of the section for Political Theory, Department of Political Science and Government, Aarhus University
- 2002-2003: Head of section for Comparative Politics, Department of Political Science and Government, Aarhus University

6. Scientific focus areas

Paternalism; Discrimination

7. Teaching

- Philosophy of Social Science; Political Theory; Seminars related to my scientific focus areas

8. International relations

University of Warwick (esp. Matthew Clayton, Andrew Mason, and Tom Parr); Universitat Pompeu Fabra (esp. Andrew Williams and Serena Olsaretti); Université Catholique de Louvain UCL (esp. Axel Gosseries); LSE (esp. Jonathan Parry; Alex Voorhoeve); University of Essex (esp. Paul Bou-Habib and David Axelsen); University of Oxford (esp. Zofia Stemplowska).

9. Supervision of students

2011-2013: Secondary supervisor for doctoral candidate David V. Axelsen, Department of Political Science and Government, Aarhus University

2011-2014: Main supervisor for doctoral candidate Andreas Albertsen, Department of Political Science and Government, Aarhus University

2010-2013: Secondary supervisor for doctoral candidate Lasse Nielsen, Department of Political Science and Government, Aarhus University

1998-2011: Main supervisor for doctoral candidate Rasmus Sommer Hansen, Department of Political Science and Government, Aarhus University

2015-2018: Main supervisor for doctoral candidate Viki M.L. Pedersen, Department of Political Science and Government, Aarhus University

2016-2019: Main supervisor for doctoral candidate Didde Boisen Andersen, Department of Political Science and Government, Aarhus University

2018-2021: Main supervisor for doctoral candidate Anne-Sofie Greisen Højlund, Department of Political Science and Government, Aarhus University

2017-2020: Secondary supervisor for doctoral candidate Andreas Bengtson, Department of Political Science and Government, Aarhus University

2018-2021: Secondary supervisor for doctoral candidate Lauritz Aastrup Munch, Department of Political Science and Government, Aarhus University

2022-2025. Main supervisor for doctoral candidate Ida Vind